Assembly of Nations 2025: Diplomacy Returns, Louder Than Ever

March, Delegate, March! Five years we've waited—no more. The silence ends. The clarion sounds. Assembly of Nations rises again! Not with rifles—but with reason. Not with battalions—but with blazing minds. Raise your placards like flags of war! Raise your voice like the roar of justice! This is no mock fight. This is no child's play. This is your nation. This is your world. This is your moment. Step into that room like it's battle. Speak like your words are gunfire. For honour, for truth, for legacy. Behold AON 2025.

Five years. That's how long the committee rooms of Calcutta Boys' School have waited in silence—no motions raised, no placards held high, no delegates clashing over clauses and crisis updates. But now, that silence is breaking.

Calcutta Boys' School proudly announces the return of its flagship Model United Nations conference: Assembly of Nations 2025, under the our banner 'Renascentia de Legatum' meaning "The Rebirth of Legacy."

This isn't just a school event returning after a break—it's the resurrection of something greater. A stage where ideas are weapons, logic is currency, and diplomacy is reborn with fire.

Why Now? Why You?

Look around: the world is not what it was five years ago.

Private military companies are rewriting the rules of war. The Middle East stands on a hair-trigger of tension. Terrorist networks are no longer just men with guns—but coders with AI. Conflict has evolved. So must the way we think about it.

This is the world you will step into at Assembly of Nations 2025—not as a spectator, but as a decision-maker.

Whether you're a seasoned MUN veteran or someone with something to say and nowhere to say it—this is your platform. AON is not a scripted debate. It's an unpredictable battlefield of thought. And it's calling you to rise.

ASSEMBLY OF NATIONS

What to Expect: Committees That Matter

This year's edition features three carefully curated committees, each grounded in real-world urgency:

• UNGA-DISEC

Agenda: Impact of the recent peace talks on enhancing the compliance and regulatory mechanism for private military and security companies, with special focus on the ongoing Russo-Ukrainian conflict and global security.

• UNSC

Agenda: The situation in the Middle East: Special focus on escalation of hostilities in the Israel-Palestine conflict.

• UNCTC

Agenda: Combating the Use of Emerging Technologies by Terrorist Organizations.

More Than Debate: AON Is A Training Ground

Let's be clear: this conference isn't about who can shout the loudest.

It's about who can think the sharpest.

Who can research deeply, argue respectfully, adapt quickly, and lead confidently—even when the room turns against them.

Through two intensive days, delegates will:

- Engage in strategic lobbying and negotiation

- Deliver persuasive speeches and quick-fire rebuttals
- Craft resolutions that reflect real-world diplomacy
- Survive crisis updates that force you to rethink everything

You'll grow not only as a speaker—but as a thinker. And whether you're planning a future in international relations, law, business, or just want to conquer public speaking—this experience will give you an edge others won't have.

But beyond the speeches and procedures lies the soul of the conference: the people. You'll meet peers who inspire you, challenge you, and stay with you—long after the final vote. Whether it's over coffee between sessions, collaborative chats after hours, or shared moments of panic and brilliance in committee—AON isn't just where delegates rise, it's where friendships are born.

What Sets AON Apart ?

It's not just the comeback. It's the scale of ambition.

Most MUNs offer a platform. We offer a legacy.

- Agendas rooted in today's global headlines
- Committees built for tension, depth, and strategy
- A delegate experience that is immersive, high-stakes, and intellectually electric
- A setting—Calcutta Boys' School—that has hosted some of the city's sharpest minds and boldest debaters

Here, diplomacy becomes dynamic. You'll feel the pulse of real-time negotiations, the thrill of persuading a room, and the rush of rewriting outcomes with just your words. This is a space where confidence is tested, charisma sharpened, and clarity born.

And beyond committee? AON is the kind of social experience that surprises you. You walk in with your position paper, and leave with a new perspective—and maybe a new best friend too.

The Rebirth Starts With You

So if you're looking for something safe, scripted, and shallow—this isn't the MUN for you.

But if you're looking to test your wits, sharpen your voice, and walk away with not just a certificate—but the confidence of someone who has stood their ground under pressure—
