About Calcutta Boys' School

A Legacy of Leadership | Est. 1877

“Dei MUNDUS Deo – The World of God, for God.”

Calcutta Boys' School is a proud Christian Minority institution, founded in 1877 by Bishop James M. Thoburn under the vision of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Operated under the authority of the Calcutta Boys' School Educational Society, it functions as a registered, non-profit charitable organization affiliated with the Bengal Regional Conference of the Methodist Church in India.

Thanks to the generous patronage of Sir Robert Laidlaw, whose contributions laid the foundation of our iconic campus at 72 S.N. Banerjee Road, CBS has grown into a beacon of learning where tradition meets innovation.

What began humbly-with just six students on the veranda of a parsonage - has evolved over nearly a century and a half into one of Kolkata's most respected educational institutions. In response to a growing vision and the need to serve more communities, CBS has expanded its footprint with additional campuses in Sonarpur, Belehata, and Asansol.

For 148 years, CBS has been guided by enduring values: love, sincerity, justice, equality, and liberty. With a steadfast commitment to holistic, quality education, the school is dedicated to nurturing intellectually curious, morally grounded, and socially responsible global citizens.

Rooted in discipline and driven by purpose, Calcutta Boys' School continues to uphold its mission-fostering academic excellence, character development, and ethical leadership in every student.

From humble beginnings to a legacy of leadership - Calcutta Boys' School continues to inspire, uplift, and empower generations.

Principal's Message

It is with immense joy that I warmly invite all delegates, faculty advisors, and esteemed guests to the relaunch of the Calcutta Boys' School - Assembly of Nations (AON 2025) - an event last held in 2019, now returning with renewed zeal, energy, and enthusiasm.

AON has never been merely a simulation of international diplomacy. It is a celebration of intellect, a platform for meaningful dialogue, and a crucible for shaping the leaders of tomorrow. In a world that continues to evolve and grapple with complex global challenges, it is more important than ever to nurture young minds that can think critically, speak confidently, and lead with integrity.

At Calcutta Boys' School, we take immense pride in offering students opportunities to extend their learning beyond the classroom and engage with the broader world. The Assembly of Nations is our commitment to fostering global citizenship - an understanding that diplomacy is not about domination, but about dialogue; not about division, but about unity and cooperation.

As we bring back AON after a significant hiatus, we do so with the firm belief that this generation is ready - not only to inherit the world, but to shape it for the better. I encourage all delegates to enter the committee rooms with open minds and leave with deeper understanding, stronger convictions, and a renewed sense of purpose.

We look forward to spirited debate, innovative solutions, and lasting friendships at this edition of AON.

Warm regards,
Mr. Raja McGee
Principal and Secretary

RENASCENTIA DE LEGATUM

United Nations General Assembly -
Disarmament and International Security Committee

UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY (UNGA) - DISEC

“Peace is not absence of conflict, it is the ability to handle conflict by peaceful means.”
– Ronald Reagan

AGENDA:

Impact of the recent peace talks on enhancing the compliance and regulatory mechanism for private military and security companies with special focus on the ongoing Russo - Ukrainian conflict and global security.

The shadow of private military and security companies (PMSCs) looms larger than ever over today's battlefields. As Ukraine debates legalizing its own PMCs to enhance defense efficiency, Russia has moved to centralize control over its mercenary forces, with notorious groups like Wagner playing pivotal roles in the protracted battles of Bakhmut and beyond. Recent Russian efforts to consolidate and regulate PMCs reflect a broader global trend: governments are increasingly seeking to both leverage and constrain these private actors, recognizing their ability to adapt quickly and innovate in conflict zones.

Meanwhile, Ukraine's arms industry has undergone a dramatic transformation. Private firms now account for over half of state defense contracts, driving modernization and resilience amid relentless attacks and shifting foreign aid dynamics. These developments highlight the urgent need for robust international compliance and regulatory frameworks-especially as both sides in the Russo-Ukrainian conflict rely more heavily on non-state military actors.

Recent peace talks have generated momentum for global action. Ukraine's draft legislation on PMCs-backed by the Ministry of Defense but facing calls for tighter oversight-aims to harness private initiative for national defense while minimizing the risk of abuse. At the same time, international scrutiny has intensified: the UK's designation of the Wagner Group as a terrorist organization and ongoing debates over transparency in the arms industry underscore the high stakes for global security.

Delegates at the Assembly of Nations 2025 will confront these evolving realities head-on, tasked with developing innovative solutions to regulate PMSCs, prevent war crimes, and ensure accountability in an era where the lines between state and private warfare are increasingly blurred.

* Double delegation (compulsory committee)

United Nations Security Council

UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL (UNSC)

“To deny people their human rights is to challenge their very humanity.”

– Nelson Mandela

AGENDA:

The situation in the Middle East:

Special focus on escalation of hostilities in the Israel- Palestine conflict

The Israel-Palestine conflict has reached a catastrophic juncture. Since October 2023, over 52,000 Palestinians have been killed and 118,000 injured in Gaza, with women and children accounting for 70% of the casualties. Following the collapse of the March 2025 ceasefire, Israel reinstated a severe blockade -cutting off access to food, water, and humanitarian aid-pushing 2.1 million people to the brink of starvation and disease.

UN experts have warned that the deliberate deprivation of essential resources and widespread destruction of infrastructure may constitute acts of genocide. They are urging the international community to move beyond rhetoric and take enforceable action to end the carnage and hold perpetrators accountable. In a historic move, the International Criminal Court has issued arrest warrants for leaders of both Israel and Hamas, citing alleged war crimes and crimes against humanity-signaling a new era of international legal scrutiny. Humanitarian organizations are facing unprecedented challenges. Aid convoys have been blocked or targeted, critical infrastructure lies in ruins, and more than 660,000 children are out of school, enduring malnutrition, trauma, and disease. The United Nations Security Council's agenda is shaped by these grim realities and by urgent appeals from UN agencies and human rights groups.

Delegates must confront the immediate need for a ceasefire, the establishment of humanitarian corridors, and mechanisms for accountability. At the same time, they must grapple with long-term questions of reconstruction, justice, and the viability of a two-state solution. The Assembly of Nations 2025 offers a crucial platform for decisive diplomatic action-echoing the world's call to end the suffering and forge a just path forward for all affected communities.

* Single delegation committee with a maximum cap of 25 delegates

United Nations Counter Terrorism Committee

UNITED NATIONS COUNTER-TERRORISM COMMITTEE (UNCTC)

“Technology is the new battleground where geopolitics and security converge.”

AGENDA:

Combating the Use of Emerging Technologies by Terrorist Organizations

The accelerating convergence of technology and geopolitics has redrawn the frontlines of counter-terrorism. Terrorist organizations are rapidly leveraging artificial intelligence, blockchain, drones, and encrypted platforms to recruit, radicalize, and finance operations across borders with unprecedented speed and stealth. In response, the UN Security Council's Counter-Terrorism Committee (CTC) adopted new guiding principles in 2025, focusing on the prevention, detection, and disruption of terrorist exploitation of emerging technologies-particularly virtual assets and AI-driven threats.

International efforts now include coordinated policy dialogues, such as the December 2024 Rome Summit on AI and terrorism, along with joint initiatives with the OSCE aimed at strengthening legislative frameworks and enhancing digital literacy-especially among youth, who are increasingly targeted by online extremist propaganda.

Recent developments underscore the urgency of global action: the CTC's multi-stakeholder approach has brought together over 120 parliamentarians and 80 experts to harmonize strategies, while the expansion of the OSCE's parliamentary coordination mechanism from 9 to 17 assemblies marks a new era of collective vigilance. Educational campaigns and policy reforms are being prioritized to build societal resilience, combat online disinformation, and foster responsible innovation-without compromising human rights.

The UNCTC session at the Assembly of Nations 2025 stands as a dynamic forum where delegates must craft forward-looking solutions to confront the rapidly evolving nexus of technology and terrorism-striking a balance between security imperatives and digital freedoms.
